Silk Hats.

The stock of silk hats at Miller & Miller's comprises the very latest styles and the finest make of the season. The variety is very great, the stock large, and prices have been regulated to harmonize with the times. Call in and examine.

The Egyptian blacking gives the best polish of any in the market; and with the least labor. Manufactured by J. M. Phillips, Corner Washington Avenue and 14th St. For sale by C. Schultz, P. G. Schuh, D. Arter & Co., and M. J. McGauley.

Neff's is the place to buy your Shirts. He has on hand a magnificent stock at prices that defy competition. For instance—all wool flannel shirts, one dollar and a quarter each—well made. If

The St. Nicholas Hotel and Restaurant. This popular and eligibly located house of public entertainment is now fitted and furnished throughout in good style; and, under the management of Messrs. Walker & Sisson, is doing a large and thriving business. It is kept upon the European plan—the guest calling for what he wants when he wants it, whether in the day or night time, and paying only for what he orders. The rooms are large and clean, furnished with the best of beds and bedding, while all other features of the establishment are arranged with an especial eye to the comfort and convenience of the guests. Jan10f

The New Year.

Begin it right, by buying, for cash, of J. H. Metcalf, No. 332 and 334 Wash. Av., who has enlarged both house and stock, and is now prepared to supply customers with the best of all kinds of staple and fancy groceries, queensware, crockery, glassware, yellow and Rockingham ware, table and pocket cutlery. All kinds of salt fish, green, dried, and canned fruits, pickles, cider, honey, syrups, fine teas, coffees and sugars, choice table butter always on hand. In short, everything usually kept in a first-class grocery; besides notions too numerous to mention, all of which will be sold at the lowest figures. If Furnishing Goods.

The complete stock of gentlemen's furnishing goods in the city, is to be found at Miller & Miller's. It would be a remarkable want, indeed, in this line that they cannot satisfactorily supply at the very lowest figures ruling in the market. If Ladies' Restaurant.

Messrs. Walker & Sisson have fitted up a ladies' restaurant in elegant style, where lady patrons will be entirely free from interruption and intrusion from the rougher sex, and where every luxury of the season can be obtained on a few minutes' notice. There is a ladies' entrance to this restaurant, and whether coming or going, lady patrons will be entirely secure from contact with the gentlemen guests of the hotel. Polite and attentive waiters will always be in attendance to receive orders. Jan10f

Pitcher & Henry's large stock of hardware, cutlery, tools, stoves, tinware, etc. will be sold without regard to cost. If

COLORED PREACHERS.

The Rev. Simon Marshall, a colored man, was arrested on the 11th inst. by the police, and taken to the police station.

The alleged dismissal of the Rev. Simon Marshall from the Baptist ministry, for undue intimacy with a neighbor's wife, formed the subject of a paragraph a few days ago, in these columns. It turns out however that the said Simon has incurred the ill-will of the self-inflated, but unworthy and vindictive Shores; and that the said Shores, in order to place his position in the church to humiliate and disgrace the Rev. Mr. Marshall, by declaring that he, the said Shores, being guilty of the offense charged, is no longer of the church of the ministry. But the Rev. Mr. Shores has manifestly mistaken his man. The Rev. Mr. Marshall is a man of such a nature that he is not to be humiliated, and declaring that he will continue to preach when the spirit thereof moves him, he defies the Rev. Mr. Shores to do the worst. That he "challenges public" may have a knowledge of the force which the Rev. Mr. Shores declares resulted in the Rev. Mr. Marshall's dismissal from the church and ministry, the latter causes the publication of the following.

VINDICATION.

At the church meeting held in the Mt. Orange church, on the 8th instant, on motion of Rev. T. J. Shores, the case of Rev. Simon Marshall was brought up for investigation. The only evidence against the Rev. Mr. Marshall was that of an abandoned, false and wicked woman, unworthy of confidence, and capable of doing or saying anything to gratify her hate or desire for revenge. To rebut the testimony of this bad woman, the Rev. Mr. Marshall presented eighteen church members, all of them in full fellowship and good standing. To the surprise of all, and to the indignation of many, the Rev. Mr. Shores, outside the evidence of the eighteen, accepted that of the abandoned woman, and declared that the charge against the Rev. Mr. Marshall had been maintained. The Reverend Mr. Marshall arose, and with the intention of remonstrating against this flagrant outrage, and to show up the irregularity and invalidity of the proceedings as well as the Rev. Mr. Shores' gross assumption of authority and was about to proceed with his remarks, when the Rev. Mr. Shores, then and there, in the house of God, and in a furious passion, attempted to engage the Rev. Mr. Marshall in battle, deacon Campbell all the while, hanging to his right arm in an endeavor to deter him from an act disgraceful to him as a minister, and violative of both the laws of God and man.

But all this to be keeping with Mr. Shores' character. He is a wolf in sheep's clothing; and stops at no means to reach his selfish aims, provided he does not imperil his own personal safety. The wolf in him is growing too large for his sheep covering, and the people, both white and colored, are rapidly finding it out. To his charge that I was raised in a rebel State, and am without understanding, I have to reply that the place of my birth was not a matter of my own choosing; but no rebel ever treated me as unfairly, or dealt with me half as foully as he has. As to my "understanding," if the Lord had given me no more brains than he has, and imposed upon me as bad and revengeful a heart as his, I would never feel myself called to the ministry.

In conclusion I have to say I shall pursue the even tenor of my way, performing my duty as a man and a minister, and giving no heed to the faces which the Rev. Mr. Shores is pleased to term my dismissal. I am known in Cairo and Alexander county, and those who know me will testify that I have lived an honest and law abiding life, striving to do my duty toward all.

If the 'Bulletin's' veracity were not unquestionable our readers would scarcely credit us when we remark that Carl L. Thomas, the peerless and favorite sign painter, has removed his shop! His horror of moving and the tenacity with which he always sticks to one place, are calculated to throw distrust about our announcement; but if his patrons will visit the basement of the City National Bank they will find him, and if they will visit the Ferry House—Commercial Avenue front—they will find him. He is there ready to serve patrons as of old, promptly, in the highest style of his art, and at very reasonable prices. If Assault on the Mississippi.

One of the pastimes of the colored deck hands, on the large New Orleans steamers, particularly, is an indulgence in singing. When the sarge is on board, and the bar turns out in the stream, they gather on the forward deck, and designating one of their number as a leader, join in songs that fairly wake the echoes in all the surrounding country. If the leader is an original genius he extemporizes his songs, trusting to the surrounding circumstances and the inspiration of the moment to make "happy" his "or pay pretty compliments that bring down a shower of grog money from the cabin passengers, who, at such times, generally crowd forward to listen. The following refrain has cost Capt. McCord, it is said, at least a half barrel of whisky:

The Olive Branch is a pretty boat:
Her Captain's a good fellow too;
For he never carries on the lower deck,
Unless he treats the crew.

The body of Mr. Jack Martin, the cook of the towboat Mary Davidge, found dead along side the railroad track yesterday morning, bore no wounds or bruises of that frightful nature usually inflicted by the cars. In truth, we understand that his body was neither torn nor bruised, and the only evidence of injury was presented in the swollen breast. It is to be regretted, perhaps, that the body was not subjected to a post mortem examination. All doubts as to the manner of his death, might by such means, have been dispelled. The general conclusion is that he was killed by the cars. There are a few, however, that feel disposed to ascribe his death to apoplexy, and a few others are rather inclined to insist that the unfortunate man has been foully dealt with. At all events the manner of his death is not unquestionably ascertained; and the doubt existing may, and doubtless will, be harrowing to his friends and family. The deceased was a resident of Davenport, Iowa. The inquest was held by coroner P. Corcoran, to whom all letters of inquiry may be addressed.

The Carbondale 'New Era' of yesterday, gives the particulars of a fatal accident that should stand as a perpetual warning, particularly to boys who handle fire arms. John Smith, a young man about nineteen years of age, living in the vicinity of Carbondale, lost his life by the accidental discharge of his revolver. The careless fellow had the muzzle of the weapon against his stomach, and with the blade of his pocket knife attempted to push the cartridge from the cylinder. One of the cartridges exploded, sending the ball through his stomach, to his hip, where it lodged. He died almost instantly.

The Byrnes Memorial.

We have received from Messrs. Rockwell & Co., Ohio Levee, a copy of Mrs. Stowe's new book entitled 'Gladly Byrnes Vindicated.' No person, who is in the least interested in literary matters, or is a lover of a good story, will neglect to read this rare volume. We do not propose to go into the merits of this controversy. Public opinion has pronounced against Lord Byron, but this we must say, that a very strong case has been made out, and that the poet was not above suspicion of crimes of the meanest, basest kind. In other times, when passion has subsided and prejudice is no longer potent, a correct verdict will be rendered for this case of very dirty linen.

A ball for the benefit of Mrs. O'Laughlin, a widow charged with the care of five children, will be held Friday night January 14th, on Commercial Avenue between 20th and 21st streets. Tickets $1.00. The friend of the widow and the orphan are expected to extend his mite on this occasion. If
